

MX3 – High Performance Macromolecular Crystallography Beamline

Integrating and testing the MX3 endstation components is proceeding at pace. All major elements that will form the endstation are already talking to each other and taking (mock) data.

The MX3 robot dewar fully loaded with 464 test sample holders.

Testing the precision of our automatic loop alignment – the glass capillary test object tapers off to a 2µm point.